Week-long Dasara Yuva Sambhrama (Sept. 10-18)

College troupes to perform this evening

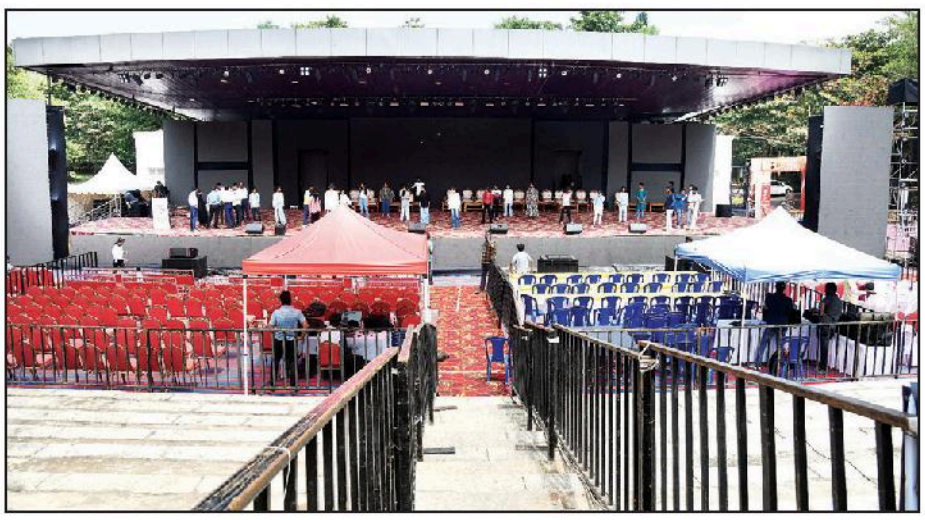
Inauguration at Open Air Theatre in Manasagangothri at 4 pm

Mysuru, Sept. 10 (MTY&BS)- Last-minute preparations are underway for Dasara Yuva Sambhrama-2025, set to begin this evening at 4 pm at the Open Air Theatre in Manasagangothri.

Considered a prelude to the Nada Habba Mysuru Dasara, the event will feature college troupes from across Karnataka, performing cultural programmes on a variety of themes, attracting large crowds of youth.

The programme will be inaugurated by Social Welfare and District in-Charge Minister Dr. H.C. Mahadevappa, who will release the ceremonial fanfare to mark the start of the festivities.

Sandalwood stars Yuva Rajkumar and Amrutha Iyengar are set to participate as special attractions.



Students rehearsing at the Open Air Theatre, Manasagangothri, this morning.

The cultural events will run daily from 4 pm to 10.30 pm until Sept. 18, showcasing the talent and creativity of students from various colleges.

The stage backdrop is being installed and tested, with sound and lighting systems undergoing frequent checks. Signboards have been put up to ensure smooth parking for both two-wheelers and four-wheelers and barricades have been installed to segregate VIP and non-VIP galleries at the Open Air Theatre.

The surrounding roads have been illuminated and welcome boards have been installed to guide visitors.

Villagers CAGE Forest Staff

Forest Department's failure to capture tiger which is killing livestock angers villagers

Gundlupet, Sept. 10 (SOMG & BCT)- In a dramatic turn of events, villagers near Bommalapura in Gundlupet locked Forest Department officials inside a large tiger trap yesterday, furious over the Department's failure to capture a tiger that has been terrorising the area for nearly three weeks.

For the past 20 days, the tiger has been prowling the village outskirts, attacking livestock and spreading fear among residents. Despite repeated pleas, villagers allege that the Forest Department failed to take decisive action.

Calf died for nothing

After days of inaction, a large cage was brought from Tumakuru and a calf was placed inside as bait. However, villagers claim that for six to seven days, the calf was left without food or water and eventually died inside the cage, with no inspection or intervention by Forest staff.

The tiger reportedly approached the cage but showed no interest in the carcass, instead wandering into a field belonging to farmer Revanna. Villagers immediately informed officials about the tiger's movements.

Tensions escalate

Tensions escalated when Forest personnel later arrived in a jeep. Farmers tried to stop the vehicle to share updates, but the driver allegedly ignored them and drove past. Enraged by what they perceived as sheer indifference, the villagers decided to stage a symbolic protest.

When officials entered the cage to examine the dead calf, farmers locked them inside from outside and deflated the jeep's tyres to prevent their escape.

The situation quickly drew a crowd as villagers demanded the immediate presence of senior officers.

MOULT IF YOU MUST, BUT SOAR HIGH: An eagle at forty must choose: die or endure a painful rebirth. It breaks its beak, tears its claws and plucks its heavy feathers. After 150 days, it soars again, renewed. This is our metaphor. We are all eagles. Life asks us to shed what no longer serves us and embrace the discomfort of growth. My own soaring began, unexpectedly, in a math classroom. Back then, numbers were my world — formulas, red pens, neat answers. Until I met John (name changed). A first-generation learner, son of a sugarcane farmer and a tailor, his report card carried single-digit marks. His shoulders slouched, eyes fixed on the desk, handwriting cramped and broken. One afternoon, I caught him tearing up his test paper. "Why?" I asked. "So Appa won't see," he whispered, trembling with shame. At that moment, I knew he didn't need formulas. He needed to be seen.

My own transformation began there. I retrained in child psychology and trauma-informed care. With John, academics paused. At dawn, we began handwriting therapy with ink pots and bamboo pens. "Your 'g' isn't broken — it bends with grace. Leave space between words. You deserve room to breathe." Soon, his letters straightened with pride. When the school needed 200 certificates handwritten for Independence Day, I suggested John. Teachers doubted. But by the seventh day, his script shone with confidence. On Awards Night, when the Head Boy received his certificate, the Principal asked, "Who wrote this?" "John, sir." Two hundred heads turned. John stood with ink-stained fingers and a straightened spine. That night, he rewrote not just words, but his story. His marks soon followed — and so did healing.

Later came Sneha (name changed), who hid from algebra behind English classics. "I can take on Shakespeare," she confessed, "but maths silences me." Together, we turned numbers into art — coloured pencils, mind maps, even poetry in multiplication. Months later, she whispered, "Ma'am, maths feels less cruel now." She went on to score above 80%...

Carl Jung wrote, "The privilege of a lifetime is to become who you truly are." I realised healing isn't about fixing — it's about seeing... Years later, in John's office, I noticed three things: his first certificate, framed proudly; his blueprints labelled in flawless letters; and the fountain pen I once gifted him. He smiled. "You taught me words connect souls. Now I connect lives through my work." If you remember only this: the way we talk to children becomes their inner voice. We don't fix children. We reflect their worth. Spread your wings. Moult if you must, but soar above the sky.

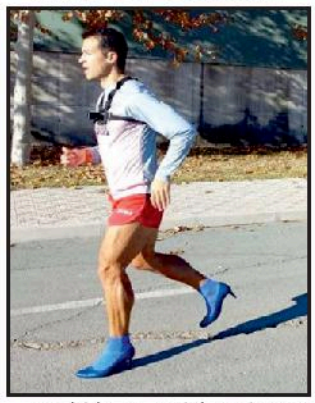
Breaks record for backward run in heels!

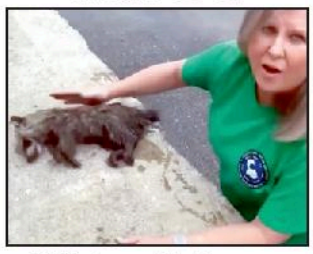


Madrid: A serial Guinness World Record-breaker from Spain defeated one of his own titles by running 328 feet backward in 16.55 seconds — while wearing high heels.

Christian Roberto López Rodríguez broke the record for the fastest 100 metres backwards in high heels, which he previously set at 20.05 seconds during an appearance on a Spanish TV series.

The record-keeping organisation's rules for the record required Rodríguez's shoes to have heels of at leash 2.76 inches and be no wider than .59 inches at the tip. Rodríguez currently holds more than 80 Guinness World Records titles.

Drunk baby raccoon saved with CPR



Whitesburg: A baby raccoon that became drunk from eating fermented peaches and nearly drowned in a dumpster was rescued by a Kentucky nurse who performed CPR on the animal.

Misty Combs, a registered nurse who works at the Letcher County Health Department in Whitesburg, said she and some colleagues recently spotted a panicked mother raccoon running through the parking lot.

They investigated and discovered the mother's two babies were trapped in a dumpster belonging to a neighbouring distillery, Kentucky Mist Moonshine. Combs was able to lift one of the babies to safety with a shovel, but the second was face-down in the water at the bottom of the dumpster.

A video shows Combs doing chest compressions on the raccoon and periodically turning it over and slapping it on the back. Combs said she was relieved when the raccoon suddenly started breathing.

VOICE OF THE READER

Daylight robbery in MDA through e-auction process

Sir,

The recent Mysuru Development Authority (MDA) site e-auctions in city have turned into nothing short of daylight robbery in the name of urban development. Take, for instance, the shocking case of a 600 sq. ft. site in Vijayanagar 4th Stage, auctioned for Rs. 2 crore.

As someone who personally participated in these auctions, I witnessed first-hand how prices skyrocketed beyond the reach of any genuine home-buyer.

A Government-backed institution like MDA is meant to serve the common citizens of Mysuru — people who have nurtured a lifelong dream of building their own home in their beloved city.

Instead, the process today appears rigged to favour real estate sharks and goons.

These so-called investors bid blindly at inflated prices, not to secure homes, but to push genuine bidders out of the process and grab prime sites for speculation.

The result? The very citizens MDA is meant to serve — the middle-class Mysureans — are being systematically excluded. With rampant real estate speculation, outsiders and profiteers now dominate the city's land market, while native residents are increasingly being pushed out.

What should have been an empowering process to help families secure a roof over their heads has turned into a game of profit and greed. But there is a simple solution that MDA can implement. Today, MDA already enforces a 10-year lock-in period for allottees before they are allowed to sell their allotted sites.

The same principle must apply to auctioned sites as well. By mandating at least a 5-year lock-in period for auction winners, MDA can immediately discourage speculative bidding and ensure that only genuine home-buyers participate in the process.

Mysuru's growth and development cannot come at the cost of robbing its own citizens of their right to affordable housing. If MDA truly wishes to uphold its mandate, it must stop serving real estate mafias and start protecting the people of this city.

Otherwise, the dream of owning a home in Mysuru will remain just that — a dream — for its own residents.

Apollo BGS Hospitals launches Next-Gen Mammography in Mysuru

Author Roopa Venkatesh, who inaugurated state-of-the-art 2D and 3D Tomosynthesis Mammography at Apollo BGS Hospitals in Mysuru, seen with the Hospital team.

Mysuru, Sept. 10- Apollo BGS Hospitals, Mysuru, marked a significant milestone in women's healthcare with the inauguration of its state-of-the-art 2D and 3D Tomosynthesis Mammography system with biopsy facility.

The advanced breast imaging service was inaugurated by author Roopa Venkatesh, who was the chief guest, in the presence of the Hospital's Vice-President & Unit Head N.G. Bharateesha Reddy and senior doctors — Dr. Sowbhagyalakshmi, Head, Department of OBG, Senior Consultant Obstetrician & Gynaecologist, Laparoscopic Surgeon & Infertility Specialist; Dr. L.V. Vanitha, Senior Consultant, Obstetrics & Gynaecology; Dr. Naveen Jayaram, Consultant Medical Oncologist; Dr. Y. Ramya, Consultant Surgical Oncologist and Dr. Shiva Prasad, Consultant-Radiologist, Head of Radiology Department.

This cutting-edge mammography technology is designed to make breast scans clearer, safer, faster and more comfortable, ensuring earlier detection of breast cancer and improved outcomes for women.

Highlights of new facility

Sharper Images: Detects even tiny changes in breast tissue with advanced clarity.

Lower Radiation: Uses X-rays more efficiently, minimising exposure for patients.

Comfort & Speed: Faster scans with shorter exam times and lower compression pressure.

3D Breast Tomosynthesis: Provides true layer-by-layer imaging, helping doctors see through overlapping tissues, especially beneficial for women with dense breasts.

Biopsy with Precision: Enables accurate tissue sampling from the exact spot of concern without unnecessary surgery.

Reduced False Alarms: Fewer unnecessary callbacks, ensuring peace of mind.

Malavalli bandh tomorrow

The BJP and JD(S) have called for Malavalli bandh tomorrow (Sept. 11), to condemn the stone-pelting incident in Maddur.

Addressing media persons yesterday, MLA K. Annadani said that the Muslim community should respect the Hindu traditional practices in the same way Hindus respect them.

Pointing out it is wrong to pelt stones during Ganesha idol immersion procession, the MLA said that Malavalli taluk bandh has been called by the JD(S) and the BJP to condemn the incident besides seeking support from traders, business establishments and the public for the bandh.

Couple from Kodagu killed in accident near Channapatna

Madikeri, Sept. 10 (PS&BCT)- A tragic road accident near Devarahosahalli on the Mysuru-Bengaluru Highway near Channapatna early Tuesday morning claimed the lives of a couple from Kodagu district.

The deceased have been identified as Kalimada Somaiah (Ramesh), 73, and his wife Saraswathi (Chattamada), 65.

Originally from Parakatageri (Pookola) in South Kodagu, the couple had been residing on 6th Cross, Mundikoppa Layout, Bagalagunte, Dasarahalli, Bengaluru.

Two days ago, they had travelled to Kodagu along with their 35-year-old son, Pavan, in their car to attend a relative's engagement ceremony and were returning to Bengaluru when the accident occurred.

According to the Police, a container truck was moving ahead of their car when a spare tyre (stepney) mounted on the rear of the truck suddenly dislodged, bounced onto the road and hit the front of their vehicle.

In the ensuing chaos, Pavan, who was driving, lost control of the car, which rammed into the rear of the container truck before crashing into the road divider.

In an attempt to avoid a collision, the car veered onto the road divider and overturned. The impact was severe, leaving the vehicle completely mangled.

Somaiah, seated in the front passenger seat, and Saraswathi, seated in the rear, died on the spot due to the severe impact. Pavan miraculously escaped with no major injuries. The family's pet dog, a Rottweiler, also travelling in the car, was unharmed.

The bodies were shifted to the Channapatna Government Hospital for post-mortem examination before being transported to the family's residence in Dasarahalli. The final rites were held there today, relatives confirmed.

The couple is survived by two sons — Pavan and Sajan, the latter currently serving in the Indian Air Force.

A case has been registered at Channapatna Police Station, and further investigation is underway.

Unidentified body found

Mysuru, Sept. 10 (KS)- The Mysuru South Police, on Sept. 7, have found a body of an unidentified man, which was covered with a bed sheet on the Bandipalya Ring Road divider and have registered a case.

The deceased is aged between 45 and 50 years, has tattoos of a Kannada alphabet on both his hands and was wearing a shirt and a pant.

The kith and kin of the deceased, if any, may contact Mysuru South Police Station on Ph: 0821-2444955 or call the District Police Control Room on Ph: 0821-2418612.

District-level Dasara Sports-2025

Over 1,500 athletes vie for top spots

Pictures show athletes taking part in the high jump competition as part of District-level Dasara Sports-2025 at Chamundi Vihar Stadium in Nazarbad this morning.

Mysuru, Sept. 10 (MTY&VNS)- Over 1,500 athletes from various taluks of Mysuru district are participating in the two-day District-level Dasara Sports-2025, which kicked off in the city this morning.

The competitions are being held across five venues — Chamundi Vihar Stadium, Teresian College, University of Mysore Sports Pavilion, MTC Club in Vidyaranyapuram and Manasagangothri Indoor Stadium.

The event was inaugurated at Chamundi Vihar Stadium by MLA Tanveer Sait, who released balloons and pigeons to mark the occasion.

Addressing the gathering, Sait highlighted the significance of Dasara Sports, calling it a platform for athletes to showcase their talent and aim for selection to represent Mysuru district at the State-level Dasara Sports, scheduled to begin on Sept. 22.

"Mysuru has long been a hub for nurturing sporting talent, with year-round events and the infrastructure needed to groom athletes," he said.

"I urge participants to embrace both victory and defeat with equal spirit, stay resilient and continue giving their best to rise to the national and international stage," Sait added.

Athletics - Men: 100m, 200m, 400m, 800m, 1,500m, 5,000m, and 10,000m running races, long jump, high jump, shot put, triple jump, javelin throw, discus throw, 110m hurdles, 4×100m relay and 4×400m relay.

Athletics - Women: 100m, 200m, 400m, 800m, 1,500m, and 3,000m running races, long jump, high jump, shot put, triple jump, javelin throw, discus throw, 100m hurdles, 4×100m relay and 4×400m relay.

In addition to athletics, competitions in volleyball, football, kho-kho, kabaddi, basketball, wrestling, badminton, hockey, handball, table tennis, throwball, ball badminton, yogasana, netball, and swimming will also be held.

Department of Youth Empowerment and Sports (DYES) Assistant Director Bhaskar Nayak, coaches, referees and other officials were present during the inauguration.

S. Shashank Gowda of Mysuru taluk seen crossing the finishing line to emerge victorious in the 800 mts run at the District-level Dasara Sports Meet at Chamundi Vihar Stadium in city this morning. Shashank completed the race with a timing of 2:08.28 secs. Meanwhile, Prashanth of K.R. Nagar (2:12.51 sec) and Abhishek of Hunsur (2:15.16 sec) secured second and third positions respectively.

Echo of RCB stampede, Maddur violence, Dasara guest row...

Highest-ever security presence for Dasara

10,000 Policemen, hundreds of senior officers, CCTV surveillance to ensure unprecedented safety measures

Mysuru, Sept. 10 (RK&BCT)- Expect a record deployment of over 10,000 Policemen during this year's Dasara festivities, as the Mysuru City Police has drawn up an elaborate security plan to maintain law and order.

The heightened security comes in the wake of recent disturbing incidents, including the June 4 stampede at Bengaluru's M. Chinnaswamy Stadium, during Royal Challengers Bengaluru's IPL victory celebrations, which claimed 11 lives and the violent stone-pelting incident at Maddur during a Ganesha procession.

Adding to the concerns is the controversy surrounding the Dasara inauguration by International Booker Prize winner Banu Mushtaq, who has been invited as the Government's guest to inaugurate the festivities.

Her past statements against Kannadambe and Goddess Bhuvaneshwari have triggered protests by the BJP and several Hindu groups, who have already taken to the streets opposing her inauguration.

Speaking to Star of Mysore this morning, senior Police officers confirmed that more than double the usual force will be deployed this year. Along with boots on the ground, digital surveillance will be ramped up with CCTV cameras, both mobile and stationary, to monitor key areas.

Forces pooled from across State

Traditionally, around 5,000 Policemen are deployed for Dasara, led by senior officers in the ranks of SPs, DCPs and ACPs. Of these, 3,000 Policemen from Mysuru form the core contingent, while the rest are brought in from neighbouring districts.

This year, however, 7,000 additional Policemen, including 10 Superintendents of Police, 20 Additional SPs, Inspectors and Sub-Inspectors, will be drawn from across Karnataka.

Letters requisitioning forces have already been sent to other districts, and the process will be formalised after a review meeting by DG&IGP Dr. M.A. Saleem.

Dr. Saleem will visit Mysuru in the coming week to personally assess preparations. The review meeting will also be attended by ADGPs, the Southern Range DIGP, the City Police Commissioner, the Mysuru SP and DCPs.

Officers confirmed that apart from nearby districts like Mandya, Kodagu, Hassan and Chamarajanagar, reinforcements will also come from Tumakuru, Shivamogga, Bengaluru Rural and Davanagere.

Security blanket across key venues

The additional forces are expected to arrive in Mysuru a week ahead of Sept. 22 inauguration and will be deployed at all key Dasara venues, including Chamundi Hill, Mysore Palace, Jumboo Savari procession route from Palace till Torchlight Parade Grounds in Bannimantap.

Special attention will be given to Chamundi Hill, where the inaugural ceremony will take place. A tight security cordon will extend from Kurubarahalli Circle at the foothill to the Temple precincts at the summit. No unauthorised persons will be allowed entry.

There will also be strict vigilance on roads leading to Dasara venues and in residential areas surrounding these locations to ensure a safe and incident-free festival.

Debut Dasara Flower Show at Lingambudhi Botanical Garden

Mysuru, Sept. 10 (MTY&BCT)- As part of this year's Dasara festivities, a grand flower show will be held at the Lingambudhi Botanical Garden from Sept. 22 to Oct. 2, promising a visual treat for visitors and a major boost to festive attractions.

For the first time, Mysuru will host two flower shows during Dasara, offering a double delight for tourists flocking to the Cultural Capital during Navaratri.

While Kuppanna Park at Nazarbad will continue to host the main Flower Show, the Lingambudhi Botanical Garden in Ramakrishnanagar will showcase a large-scale floral exhibition, with preparations already underway.

Over 45 varieties of flowering plants are being specially cultivated in 40,000 flower pots, creating a vibrant and colourful landscape to captivate visitors.

Spread across 15 acres, Lingambudhi Botanical Garden is divided into several themed sections and features over 290 plant species, making it an ideal destination for botanical studies and leisurely exploration. With 174 genera cultivated, this facility stands as Karnataka's fourth and Mysuru's first officially recognised botanical garden, developed by the Horticulture Department at a cost of Rs. 5.6 crore.

The garden is set to take centre stage with its artistic floral displays. Flowering plants such as roses, plumeria (frangipani), bauhinia, thunbergia, erythrina variegata and marigolds will be showcased in creative patterns and themes.

Pergolas & fountain

Visitors can take a break under pergolas crafted from live plants, with shaded seating areas strategically placed around the garden. Heart-shaped floral arches will add a romantic touch to the scenic pathways, perfect for photography.

For the first time, a musical and dancing fountain has been installed, accommodating up to 150 seated spectators. This feature promises to become a major attraction, offering a magical evening experience.

Viewing tower

Adding to the garden's charm is a newly built 60-ft-high viewing tower, offering panoramic views of both the botanical garden and the lush birdwatching zones around Lingambudhi Lake.

The tower is currently undergoing final touches, with the installation of safety railings progressing swiftly to ensure it is ready before the start of Dasara.

Plans are in motion to equip the tower with binoculars, enhancing the birdwatching experience for nature enthusiasts.

To spread awareness about the flower show, information boards will be placed at major Dasara venues, busy traffic junctions and other high-footfall areas across Mysuru.

Each board will feature QR codes that, when scanned, will display an interactive map of the garden's location, helping tourists navigate easily to the venue.

Schedule and entry fee

Lingambudhi Flower Show will run daily from 9 am to 9 pm, starting Sept. 22, coinciding with the beginning of Navaratri, and concluding on Oct. 2, the day of Jumboo Savari. Entry fee: Adults - Rs. 60; Children - Rs. 30.

Even after Dasara festivities conclude, Lingambudhi Botanical Garden will remain open year-round to public, said garden Asst. Director Manjunath.

Garden and themed ATTRACTIONS

The Lingambudhi Botanical Garden already features an array of mini parks and speciality gardens, each designed to engage and educate visitors:

- ROSE GARDEN: A fragrant and colourful space dedicated to roses.
- TOPIARY PARK: Features intricately pruned plant sculptures shaped like animals and birds.
- BUTTERFLY PARK: Attracts and sustains different species of butterflies.
- MEDICINAL PLANT GARDEN: Showcasing traditional and medicinally valuable plants.
- BAMBOO DOLL PARK: Highlighting diverse bamboo species arranged in creative displays.
- PLUMERIA (FRANGIPANI) PARK: Dedicated to this popular flowering tree.
- MINI FRUIT GARDEN: Displays different varieties of fruit-bearing plants.
- PALMETUM: A specialised section exclusively for palm species, serving scientific and educational purposes.
- CACTUS PARK: Featuring rare and exotic cacti.
- CONIFEROUS PARK: Home to a range of evergreen conifer plants.

These curated spaces are designed to delight visitors of all ages while promoting awareness about diverse plant species.

With all arrangements in place, the city is ready to welcome youth from across Karnataka for a vibrant cultural extravaganza as part of the Dasara celebrations.

Responding to the tense standoff, Bandipur Sub-Division ACF N.P. Naveen Kumar, Gundlupet ACF Suresh, RFO Shivakumar, Circle Inspectors Jayakumar and Vanaraju, and SI Mahesh rushed to the spot to pacify the protesters.

Villagers accused the Department of giving empty assurances while ignoring the persistent threat posed by the tiger.

They said they have been unable to work their fields or send labourers due to fear of the predator.

With 20 days of complaints allegedly going unheard, they demanded disciplinary action against negligent staff and urgent steps to capture the animal.

After negotiations, ACF Naveen Kumar assured the villagers that elephants would be deployed immediately for a combing operation and that he would personally supervise the efforts. Following this assurance, the trapped officials were released.

FIR against five villagers for wrongful confinement

Gundlupet, Sept. 10 (SOMG &BCT)- In the aftermath of the dramatic protest, the Police have registered an FIR against five villagers for wrongful confinement, criminal intimidation, and obstructing Government duty.

According to the complaint, a team from the Special Tiger Protection Force (STPF) — DRFO Jnanashekhar, Karthik Yadav, Vinay, Forest Guard Basavegowda, and Suchitra — was travelling in a Department vehicle when they were intercepted by villagers identified as Raghu, Prasad, Deepu, Gangadhar Swamy and Revanna.

The accused allegedly blocked the vehicle, verbally abused the officials and forcibly made them disembark.

They were then taken near the tiger trap site in the Gundlupet buffer zone, where a larger group, including Santhosh, Praveen, Subramanya, Manikanta, Raghavendra, Shivanna, Rajappa, and Basavaraju, reportedly surrounded the officials with wooden logs and threatened to burn them alive.

THE LIGHTER SIDE

By Dr. R. Balasubramaniam

Fried in 10 minutes or less

There was a time when "fast food" meant waiting 30 minutes for a pizza. You prayed it would not be cold, wrong or delivered to your neighbour. He might take a bite before realising it was not his. Today, we expect dinner in 10 minutes flat — or else.

Welcome to the Swiggy-Zomato generation. A population trained to believe that if your groceries take more than 600 seconds to arrive, you are being oppressed. If your biryani takes longer than your buffering Instagram reel, civilisation is crumbling. Blinkit, Zepto, Instamart — they are not just apps; they are lifestyle choices. Cultural movements. Worship services in the church of convenience.

The age of 10-minute miracles

We now live in a world where it is entirely normal to order bananas and body wash while brushing your teeth. They arrive before your mouth has stopped foaming. My son once ordered eggs on Blinkit and the delivery guy handed them over while I was still asking him why he did not walk down to the corner store. It felt like the chicken had laid them on the way.

Another time he ordered ice cream. By the time I got to the fridge to make space, the doorbell rang. There he was — the dessert ambassador — barely winded. Either he is secretly living in our car garage or these apps have wormholes under our cities.

This isn't speed. This is teleportation.

Convenience is our new God

Let us admit it — we are addicted to convenience. We no longer walk to grocery stores. We no longer cook. Heck, we no longer wait. Even 12 minutes feels excessive now. We want things now, hot, sealed, algorithmically personalised and ideally with free delivery.

And to be fair, this economy of instant gratification is no small force. It has created thousands of jobs, turned delivery riders into urban superheroes and given people more time to… well, scroll endlessly on their phones. Productivity?

Maybe not. But convenience? Peak.

The start-ups are booming. Venture capitalists are drooling. India's consumption engine is running on caffeine, sugar, screen time and nostalgia for a time when we actually knew how to boil rice.

The death of the kitchen (and the Mysuru Saaru)

Ask a 20-something today what "Mysuru Saaru" is and you will get a blank stare. Ask them to cook it and you will be blocked. The modern kitchen is now just a glorified storage room. It is filled with old take-out containers, delivery bags and a pressure cooker that has not whistled since 2018.

I overheard one of my young office colleagues bragging about his new flat just after the house-warming. "The kitchen's untouched, bro. Mint condition." As if not cooking is a badge of honour. The only heat his stove has seen is from a malfunctioning ring light during an Instagram Live. The kitchen used to be the heart of the home. Now it is the Airbnb photo nobody uses.

Health? That was so 2010

While our thumbs get stronger, our digestive systems are filing complaints. We are speed-running meals, eating ultra-processed food with ultra-short attention spans. We are hitting new PRs — not in fitness, but in how fast we can order samosas before the cricket match resumes.

A whole generation now believes "balanced diet" means a pizza with equal amounts of cheese and regret. We are building bodies out of sodium and start-up coupons. And do not even ask about gut health. If our microbiome had a therapist, she would be on vacation indefinitely.

The time paradox

"But we are saving time!" you hear another young colleague argue, mouth full of momos. Are we? Really?

We do not use this new-found time to meditate, paint or call our parents. We use it to watch 12 consecutive reels of someone else making lasagna. Or worse — review our order status every 90 seconds like it is a breaking news update.

We have confused speed with efficiency and convenience with meaning. The more time we save, the less we seem to know what to do with it.

The gig in the gig economy

Let us also not forget the real MVPs: the delivery partners. These folks are out there dodging potholes, street dogs and rogue aunties. They even risk death itself to make sure your cold coffee arrives… well, cold.

And what do they get in return? 5 tips and a 3-star rating because "the fries were a bit soggy." We are outsourcing our basic needs and our empathy.

The system runs on their hustle. And sometimes, their suffering. We get instant noodles. They get delayed insurance.

So, what now? Uninstall everything and start farming?

No, don't worry. I am not asking for a return to stone tools and charcoal stoves. I love my 4.30 pm chai generously shared by my young colleagues at the office as much as them. But maybe, just maybe, we pause and consider what this culture of "instant everything" is doing to us.

Maybe we cook once a week. Burn the onions. Overboil the dal. Cry while chopping. It is humbling. It reminds us we are not machines. That slow things still have value.

Maybe we eat mindfully without a screen in front of us. Maybe we tip our delivery guy a little more. Maybe we stop seeing convenience as a right and start treating it like the privilege it is.

Because here is the deal. We are getting everything we want in 10 minutes. But we might be losing everything we need — slowly, invisibly and ironically, one hyper-fast delivery at a time.

So yes, go ahead. Order your groceries. But once in a while, also visit the store. Chat with the shop-keeper. See what carrots actually look like before they are grated.

That — not instant noodles — might be the real nourishment we have been missing.

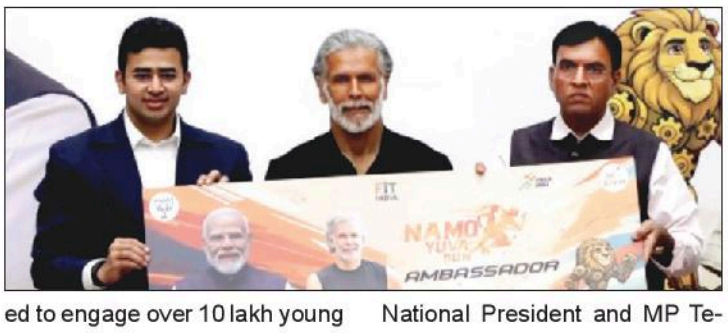
Prime Minister Narendra Modi's 75th birthday celebrations

Nationwide NaMo Yuva Run on Sept. 21

Over 10 lakh youths expected to participate at 100 locations in the country

New Delhi, Sept. 10 (UNI)- The Bharatiya Janata Yuva Morcha (BJYM) launched 'NaMo Yuva Run - For a Nasha Mukt Bharat,' a nationwide youth mobilisation and fitness campaign to promote a drug-free India.

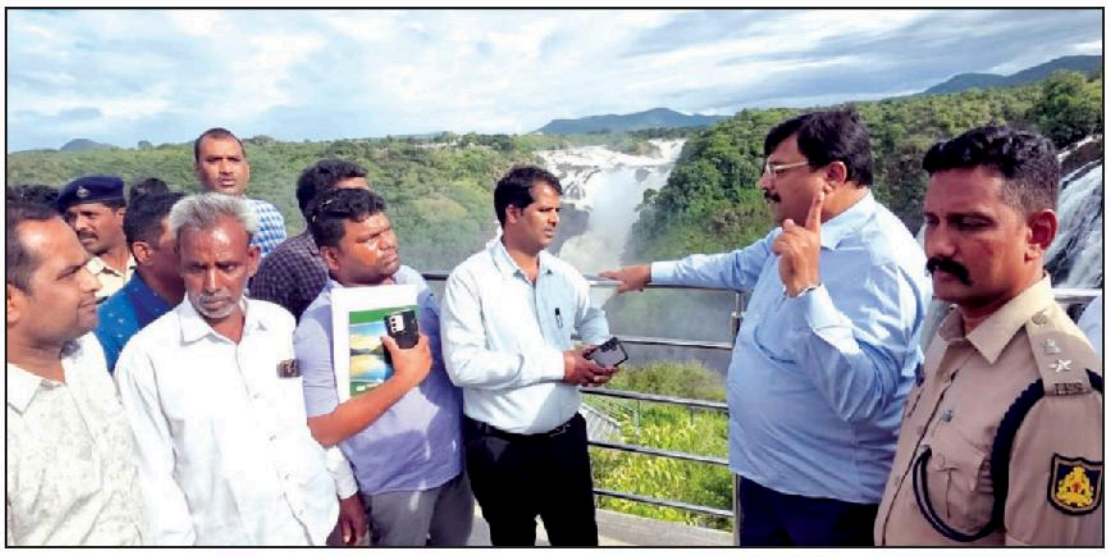
The initiative forms a part of the annual Seva Pakhwada (Sept. 17 to Oct. 2). The campaign, being organised to mark Prime Minister Narendra Modi's birthday on Sept. 17, is expected to engage over 10 lakh young participants across 100 locations in the country. The campaign was launched by BJYM National President and MP Tejasvi Surya in the presence of Union Minister for Youth Affairs and Sports Mansukh Mandaviya and actor Milind Soman, who is the National Run Ambassador.



The official campaign logo, mascot, T-shirt and registration portal www.namoyuvarun.com were also unveiled. The event will culminate on Sept. 21, when BJYM will coordinate 100 simultaneous runs across urban and semi-urban centres. Each event is expected to draw a minimum of 10,000 participants, making it one of the largest coordinated youth fitness campaigns by a political youth wing in India.

Tejasvi Surya said the run is intended not merely as a fitness activity, but as a youth mobilisation strategy aligned with broader vision of a Viksit Bharat by 2047, as articulated by the PM. The initiative "seeks to inspire collective youth action against addiction, while reinforcing the role of fitness and civic discipline in nation-building."

Gaganachukki Jalapathotsava grandeur on Sept. 13 and 14



Malavalli MLA P.M. Narendraswamy inspecting the venue of Gaganachukki Jalapathothsava along with officials recently.

Malavalli, Sept.10 (TRR)- The two-day Gaganachukki Jalapathothsava at Shivanasamudra in Malavalli taluk will be held with grandeur on Sept. 13 and 14, announced Malavalli MLA P.M. Narendraswamy after chairing a review meeting with officials at Gaganachukki, Shivanasamudra, recently.

The MLA directed officials to make all necessary arrangements to successfully organise the event, especially with the world-famous Mysuru Dasara festivities set to commence from Sept. 22.

A unique laser show and special lighting arrangements will be the highlight of this year's Jalapathothsava, aimed at drawing more tourists. The stage programme will also be live-streamed, with lakhs of visitors expected to throng the venue during the two-day celebrations.

As the drinking water project works are currently underway at Rottikotte, the stage programme venue has been shifted near Mallikyatanahalli, the MLA informed.

He further announced that free transport services will be provided for people arriving from various parts of Malavalli taluk. Arrangements will also be made to supply food and drinking water, along with separate toilet facilities.

Officials will decide on opening shops and counters for visitors, while local merchants will be allowed to set up stalls and run their businesses at Mallikyatanahalli itself, he added.

Speaking on the occasion, Mandya DC Dr. Kumara said, "As the KRS Reservoir is full this year, just like last year, a grand Gaganachukki Jalapathothsava is being organised." He urged officials to discharge their responsibilities diligently to ensure the success of the event.

The DC added that several committees have been formed, including stage, cultural, transport, health, cleanliness and food, to oversee the smooth execution of the celebrations.

SP Mallikarjuna Baladandi, Sub-Divisional Officer M. Shivakumar, Tahasildar S.V. Lokesh, Dy.SP V. Krishnappa, Taluk Panchayat EO H.G. Srinivas, and other officials were present at the meeting.

C.P. Radhakrishnan elected Vice-President

New Delhi, Sept. 10 (Agencies)- National Democratic Alliance (NDA) candidate C.P. Radhakrishnan, who is currently serving as Governor of Maharashtra, was elected as Vice-President of India. He defeated I.N.D.I.A bloc candidate Justice B. Sudershan Reddy in the VP election held yesterday.

Radhakrishnan secured 452 first preference votes while Justice Reddy received 300. Fifteen votes were declared invalid. Rajya Sabha General Secretary, P.C. Mody, who was the Returning Officer, announced the results.

The elections witnessed a turnout of 98.20 per cent, with 767 MPs casting their vote out of 781. Thirteen MPs abstained, including seven from Biju Janata Dal (BJD), four from Bharat Rashtra Samithi (BRS), one from Shiromani Akali Dal (SAD) and one independent MP.

Prime Minister Narendra Modi greeting C.P. Radhakrishnan.

In a post on X, Prime Minister Narendra Modi said, "Congratulations to Thiru CP Radhakrishnan Ji on winning the 2025 Vice Presidential election. His life has always been devoted to serving society and empowering the poor and marginalised. I am confident that he will be an outstanding VP, who will strengthen our Constitutional values and enhance Parliamentary discourse."

VP's Office had been vacant since July 21, following the resignation of Jagdeep Dhankhar.

Prof. Shalini Urs to speak at UK Conference

Mysuru, Sept. 10-Prof. Shalini R. Urs, retired Professor of Library and Information Science at University of Mysore, Founding-Director of the International School of Information Management (ISiM) and Founder- Chairperson of MYRA School of Business, has been invited to speak at the ALPSP Annual Conference and Awards 2025, being held from Sept. 10 to 12 in Manchester, UK.

Shalini Urs

She is invited by the Association of Learned and Professional Society Publishers (ALPSP) to speak on India's One Nation One Subscription (ONOS) policy, launched in January 2025 with a budget of Rs. 6,000 crore over three years. The initiative provides nationwide access to more than 13,000 journals from 30 publishers, benefitting over 18 million students, faculty, and researchers across 6,300 institutions.

Prof. Urs, who pioneered the Vidyanidhi Digital Library and eScholarship Portal in 2000, sees ONOS as both a gift of access and a missed golden opportunity.

She will highlight how India could leverage its scale and resources to create digital public infrastructure.

WORD OF THE DAY

Immutable

Pronunciation: ih-MYOO-tuh-bul (adjective).
Meaning: Immutable is a formal adjective used to describe something that is unable to be changed.
Origin: Immutable may describe something that is incapable of change, but the word itself — like all words — is mutable, both capable of and prone to alteration. To put a finer point on it, if language were fixed, we wouldn't have immutable itself, which required a variety of mutations of Latin verb mutare ("to change") to reach our tongues (or pens, keyboards, or touchscreens — oh the many permutations of communication!). Other English words that can be traced back to mutare include mutate, transmute & commute. Which reminds us — mutability of language makes great food for thought during one's commute.
Example: "... by the 1800s, naturalists like Lamarck were questioning the assumption that species were immutable; they suggested that over time organisms actually grew more complex, with the human species as the pinnacle of the process. Darwin brought these speculations into public consciousness in 1859 with On the Origin of Species, and while he emphasised that evolution branches in many directions without any predetermined goal in mind, most people came to think of evolution as a linear progression." — Ted Chiang, LitHub.com, 6 Mar. 2025.

THE ODD WORD

Ignavia
Laziness; laxity.

PHRASE OF THE DAY

I spy with my little eye

Meaning: 'I spy with my little eye' is a rhyme used in the children's guessing game to indicate what it is that is being looked at.
Origin: The game 'I Spy' originated in Victorian England. It remains a common pastime played by children – albeit often initiated by adults to occupy bored children on car journeys and the like. One person secretly chooses an object that they can 'spy with his/her little eye' and the others take turns to guess what it is. The first mention of 'I spy, with my little eye' that I know of in print is in The Manchester Times, January 1889, which gives an explanation of the rules: After the lantern we had games of various kinds. One was called I "I Spy." To play it all the children sit round the room. One of the players chooses some object, which he must actually see, and then says, "I spy, with my little eye, something beginning with" P, or whatever the first letter happens to be. The game spawned a highly successful series of I-SPY spotter's guide books made for British children. These were very popular in the 1950s and 1960s. The guessing game was preceded by another children's game called I Spy (or Hy Spy).

CRYPTOQUIP

The Cryptoquip is a substitution cipher in which one letter stands for another. If you think that X equals O, it will equal O throughout the puzzle. Single letters, short words and words using an apostrophe give you clues to locating vowels. Solution is by trial and error.

SPVGMC TRUST

Thanks Artistes, Kalarasikas

Sri Prasanna Vidya Ganapathi Mahotsava Charitable (SPVGMC) Trust's 64th year Ganesha Heritage Music Festival at 8th Cross, V.V. Mohalla, Mysuru, which began on Aug. 27, successfully concluded on Sept. 8 with Vedic Scholars Challakere Brothers performing Nakshatra Homa.

C.R. Himamshu, Secretary, SPVGMC Trust, has in a press release, thanked the artistes who came all the way from various places and performed at the grand Ganesha Festival, without whom this Music Festival could not have been complete.

This year artistes Vid. Melukote Nagesh, Vid. Rahul Vellal, Vidu. Prithvi Bhaskar, Vid. Mannargudi V. Shankararaman, Vidu. Padma Shankar, Vid. Ramana Balachandhran, Pt. Ishaan Ghosh, Vid. Bharadwaj R. Sathavalli, Vid. Sunil Gargyan and Vid. Karthik Pranav performed for the first time at 8th Cross Heritage Music Festival.

SPVGMC has also expressed its gratitude to all the Kalarasikas, music-lovers, donors, patrons and each and everyone who helped directly or indirectly with their unconditional support in conducting the Festival smoothly without any hurdles.

Thanking the Police Department, Chamundeshwari Electricity Supply Corporation Limited (CESC), Mysuru City Corporation (MCC) authorities and media persons for their support, the Trust has also thanked its President and Industrialist Dr. M. Jagannath Shenoy and all other Trustees for their valuable support in completing the 64th Heritage Music Festival.
